DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-15, drawn to a method of determining cell viability wherein cells are in contact with deuterated materials.

Group II, claim(s) 16, drawn to a method of determining cell viability wherein an aliquot of cells are in a medium free of deuterated materials while other cells are in contact with deuterated materials.

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the subject matter found in Invention I is not new, and therefore does not have any special technical feature which would link it to Invention II. The subject matter of Invention I is taught by Harhay (EP 818674 A), wherein Harhay discloses a method for determining cell viability (see claims 1 and 5) and it is indicated that vibrational spectra emitted by cells are inherently indicative of metabolism.

Election of Species Requirement

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- A. the types of vibrational spectra as found in claims 2 and 3
- B. the types of deuterated materials found in claims 4 and 5

C. the methods of normalizing Raman spectra found in claims 6 and 13

D. the various target wavenumbers found in claim 7

E. the various reference wavenumbers found in claims 8-12

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species (elect one species from group A, elect a particular deuterated material from those found in the claims of group B, elect one method of normalizing Raman spectra from group C, elect one wavenumber from group D, and elect one wavenumber from group E) to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed as shown above.

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 1 and 16.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: methods of utilizing Raman spectra for determining cell viability and/or determining the characteristics of analytes in a sample are well-known in the art, as shown above in Harhay, and therefore, no special technical feature exists to link the species shown above.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
